Classical Training for the Horse and Rider

Natalie Dominguez, allitup1@yahoo.com

Instruction and training is dressage based which forms a solid foundation for all riding disciplines. Lessons are available in dressage, hunt seat, western and recreational riding. Additional services available include horse training, preparation for competition, and assistance in purchasing a horse.

All riders must wear appropriate attire. This includes gloves, an ASTM/SEI certified helmet and boots with a heel. New students may borrow a schooling helmet, but must purchase their own if they plan to continue in a regular lesson program. Riding shoes should be leather, with at least ½" heel. Athletic shoes are not acceptable. Anyone accompanying the student and in attendance while the horse is out of the stall should also wear closed-toe, protective shoes.

Riders should arrive 15 minutes prior to their scheduled lesson. Lessons may include mounted and un-mounted activities. Riders are expected to assist in grooming, tacking and un-tacking, etc.

Cancellations after 9:00AM on the day of the lesson will result in a $15 charge unless excused due to emergencies, severe weather, and temperatures below 15°F.
